6 STRATEGIC PARTNERS IN AFRICA

Transdisciplinary scholars capable of taking on challenges of the Anthropocene.

Transdisciplinarity is a process in which multiple research, educators and non-academic stakeholders (such as the general public, policy makers or end-users) work together to co-create and co-produce new knowledge.

"The challenge of climate change calls for transdisciplinarity meaning that scholars need to speak one another's languages so that we can build solutions together on multiple levels." Alasdair Skelton
